

The People's Column

As a farmer and not a journalist may I come with a few dots in behalf of the farmer. I was much interested and amused at the article by "A Reader" in last week's Eagle, and now I want to invite him and other readers as well, to consider some points in his discussion of the farmers' problems. Yes, we farmers have been the recipients of a great deal of free advice during the last few months and if we should take the majority of this hot air seriously we would be prepared to stand Mother Earth up upon edge and let both sides lay out of cultivation a year or two until some of the surplus has been consumed. As to the farmers' actual condition, would ask in all sincerity, when has out needs ever been considered more than a mere joke in the eyes of our law makers? We have never asked for any law that would give us preeminence over the rest of mankind. But we have repeatedly asked that our products be protected from exploitation and gambling but as to the protection (Continued on Page 6)

Offers Suggestions
Rotary luncheon program was in charge of Rev. Roy S. Hollomon who in speaking on "My Impressions of Bryan Rotary," offered some very good suggestions for the improvement of the club. He concluded by calling attention to that part of the Rotary Code of Ethics which enjoins members to engage in no unworthy occupation, and then related the story of the replies given by three stone cutters to the question, "What are you doing?" The first, who was really living a miserable treadmill existence, answered, "Cutting stone," the second with a more definite though not entirely laudable objective, replied, "Making $2.50 per day," but the third

Miss Henderson, Philanthropist, Dies In Cameron

The sad news reached Bryan this morning of the death of Miss Ada Henderson at her home in Cameron, Wednesday night at 10:30 o'clock after an illness of several weeks. Deceased was well known to the older citizens of Bryan having made her home here for a time with her brother Judge S. R. Henderson and family, before his death. A noble Christian and beloved by all who knew her she was ever a friend to those who needed her most, and her life was given to good deeds and kindly ministrations. When death took away her brother, Judge S. R. Henderson, and his five small children were orphaned, it was she who took them into her heart and arms, and was mother, father, friend and councillor to them until they attained manhood and womanhood. As the years passed by they loved to "call her blessed," and have loved and cherished her with a devotion beautiful and inspiring.

Hon. F. L. Henderson of Bryan was one of the five children whom "Aunt Ada" as they love to call her, reared to manhood. He was at her bedside when death called her to the Heavenly home, as were Miss Winnie and Miss Katherine Henderson of Cameron and Mrs. A. M. Ferguson of Sherman. Only one of the five children was absent, Tom Henderson, who lives in New Jersey.

The funeral was held from the family home this Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock with interment made in the Cameron cemetery. Beside those mentioned above, deceased is survived by one brother, Hon. T. S. Henderson of Cameron, and many nieces and nephews all of whom mourn today the loss of one whose life was a "benediction and blessing to the world."

Glass Of Broken Bottles Cut Deep Gashes In Driver

B. Howard Yeager, local dairyman, was the victim of a painful accident Monday afternoon from which he is still suffering great pain. While delivering milk in the afternoon, Mr. Yeager got out of his car with several bottles of milk in his hand, and started in to the Lamar Betha home on East 24th street. Just as he got out of his car, Rev. Thos. G. Watts and family dashed by in their car the side of which struck Mr. Yeager's right hand, and broke the bottles which he was holding. The glass cut deep gashes on both the inside and outside of his hand broke one finger, and severed an artery in his wrist. It was an unavoidable accident but came near being a very serious one. Dr. Watts returned and did what he could for Mr. Yeager and assured him of what he already knew, that it was all unavoidable and deeply deplored. The injured hand was bandaged and several stitches taken. Late Wednesday infection was evident and Mr. Yeager had to be given an anesthetic while a second treatment was given the hand. Report comes that he rested well Wednesday night and is thought at this time to be doing nicely.

Calles, Leader Of Mexico, Is Severely Indicted In Excellent Address Here By Peter Collins

In a strikingly severe indictment of the Mexican government of Plutarco Elias Calles, Peter W. Collins, of Boston, noted American labor-leader, sociologist and lecturer and former U. S. Industrial Expert, in a lecture on Mexico last night in the Palace Theatre called on the American people to demand of our government the severance of relations with Red Mexico and to back up the government in refusing to continue to recognize the Mexican government, which, Mr. Collins declared, is a "dictatorship of red communism that denies the sacred rights of humanity, prohibits liberty, freedom, protection of life and the pursuit of happiness and scorns and rejects the God-given guarantees upon which civilization rests."

In a thorough analysis of the so-called constitution of Mexico and the thirty-three clauses of Article 130 of that constitution, Mr. Collins showed how this constitution denied the five great kinds of freedom: freedom of person, freedom of trial, freedom of worship, freedom of speech, press and petition, and freedom of property. He quoted article after article in the Mexican constitution to prove his point. He explained that the constitution of Mexico

VISITOR GETS FIRST GLIMPSE A. M. COLLEGE

"Bill" McIntosh, publisher of the Evening Light of San Antonio, a Randolph Hearst paper, was a visitor in Bryan on yesterday. This was Mr. McIntosh's first visit to this part of the state, though he has been a citizen of the state for the past eight years.

"Wonderful institution, was his exclamation as he viewed the A. and M. College for the first time. "My, I never dreamed you had such an institution as this down here. Though I am somewhat familiar with the Aggie band, as I formerly lived in Fort Worth and heard them play each year when they came to Fort Worth as the official band of the Southwestern Cattle Exposition and Fat Stock Show, yet I did not begin to visualize A. and M. College as it really is," he said.

After a drive over the campus the Experiment Station, horticultural garden, feeding and breeding station, etc., he watched the treatment and had the pleasure of seeing the 2,200 boys seated in Sbia Hall partaking of their evening meal. Through the kindness of W. A. Duncan, superintendent of subsistence, Mr. McIntosh was given a glimpse of the bigness of the kitchen, bakery and other things that make it possible to feed this army of young men.

"This won't be my last visit to Bryan and A. and M. College," was Mr. McIntosh's parting adieu. And we hope he meant just what he said.

was never adopted by the states of the Mexican republic nor approved by the Mexican people, but was put into effect by Carranza in 1917 at the point of the gun, when the world was at war and when Carranza was directing the anti-American forces in Mexico.

Similar To Russia

Mr. Collins declared that there was only one other document in all the world like the Mexican constitution, and that is the constitution of Red Russia. He said both came from the same source, from the fountain of Red Communism, the Communist Manifesto of Marx, founder of Red Radicalism. He showed, from the Manifesto of Marx, how both Red Russia and Red Mexico had put into their constitutions the three principal doctrines of communism: abolition of religion—which Marx declared the opinion of the people—abolition of the family and marriage, and abolition of private property. Today, in Red Mexico and Red Russia, religion is abolished, the family and marriage are degraded and ownership of private property is denied.

Mr. Collins also went into an analysis of the constitution of the United States to show how Red Mexico and Red Russia repudiated (Continued on Page 4)

Harvey

(Special to The Eagle)

HARVEY, March 25.—When the news was spread abroad Wednesday morning that Charlie Jones of Bryan was dead school was closed for the day, out of respect for him; and before three o'clock the appointed hour for the funeral, people had assembled from far and near at Bethel cemetery to pay their last tribute of respect to his memory. Mr. Jones was for years one of Harvey's most highly respected and beloved citizen. He was known to be honest, just and kind in all his dealings with his fellow men. He was a considerable land owner here and bore a reputation of being an unusually kind and lenient landlord. Just before he died he sent a message to all his negro tenants that he wanted them to attend his funeral and also to select some song of their choice and sing it at his grave. For quite a number of years Charlie Jones has resided in Bryan, but motored to Harvey every day to see about his interests out here. The major part of the funeral services were held for him in Bryan at 3:00 o'clock, Rev. R. E. Day pastor of the First Baptist church officiating. A short while before the funeral cortege arrived a truck load of flowers were sent out by his numerous Bryan friends and relatives. It was nearly five when the funeral procession arrived at Harvey. It was the largest funeral we suppose, ever held in Harvey; there must have been six or seven hundred people present. Mr. Jones had requested that all the people of Harvey join in a hymn of their choice. After a beautiful selection and a prayer by Rev. Pipkin, it was followed by the negroes of their selection. There were quite a number of them present and very softly they sang "Nearer My God To Thee." The song was very pretty, plaintive and impressive. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful beyond description. The air was redolent with their perfume—they fairly covered his grave—and many were placed on those of his family passed on before. Thus has passed away a truly good man, one who will be missed in the church circles both here and in Bryan. His wife, five sons, and a daughter survive him besides grandchildren and other relatives.

President Howell called on Dr. T. O. Walton to introduce General Wolters, who addressed the meeting on "The Individual Responsibility of Each Member of a Chamber of Commerce." John M. Lawrence responded on "What Bryan Things of Houston."

Walton and Allen Talk
Dr. Walton extended an invitation to the visitors to be the guests of the A. and M. College during the remainder of their visit. Nat B. Allen, principal of Allen Academy, extended an invitation to the visitors to visit the local school.

Mayor Tyler Haswell, E. H. Astin, Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, W. S. Howell and Dean E. J. Kyle each told of what Bryan thinks of Houston, and of the wonderful possibilities of the Brazos Valley. At the noon hour the distinguished visitors watched the A. and M. cadet corps as it marched into the Mess Hall and later had luncheon in the Mess Hall Annex as guests of Dr. T. O. Walton and A. and M. College. Between 1 and 2 o'clock the distinguished visitors witnessed a review of the entire cadet corps in their honor.

The visitors were accompanied to College by J. Webb Howell, E. H. Astin, John M. Lawrence, Secretary Sam Eberstadt, W. S. Howell and H. O. Boatwright and Mayor Tyler Haswell.

The following were present: N. B. Allen, George A. Adams, Travis B. Bryan, F. C. Bolton, Wilson Bradley, J. N. Dulaney, H. O. Ferguson, W. F. Gelber, Tyler Haswell, J. Webb Howell, W. S. Howell, E. Fine Poultry Talks Given On Tour Of Brazos Co. Farms

At each stop on the poultry tour last week expert and professional poultrymen made talks which, it seems, should have been heard by everyone interested in raising chickens. Those interested in Rhode Island Reds were glad to hear Mr. Irving state that of the heavier breeds the Reds had made in the United States the highest record, 344 eggs. Dr. R. C. Dunn stressed the importance of sanitation, sunlight, comfortable housing, proper feeding, etc., in the raising of baby chicks. "Keep mature birds away from baby chicks," he said, "if you want to keep down coccidiosis." Rely on prevention and not cures. Dr. C. B. Godbey, in speaking on the breeding for egg production, stated that the most progress had been made by selection, but not by "mass" selection. He pointed out that there are two laws governing: 1 "Like begets like," 2 Universal law of variation—"nature never duplicates." He called attention to the two kinds of variation, heritable, and non-heritable, and stated that unless the high egg producing hen had the quality of transmitting her production to her offspring, then to select her as a breeder would not be wise. V. R. Glazener, in speaking on marketing said the consumer wanted fresh eggs, infertile eggs, quality eggs of uniform size, clean eggs. He stated that each egg should bear a stamp of the producer, and that this should serve as a sort of trade mark to the public. He called attention to the fact that the average per cent of candling was more than 40 per cent during the summer months, and that the producer and not the consumer lost this. R. M. Sherwood stated that while the trapnest is the guide in egg-laying ability, we should put part of our shouting on consumption of eggs rather than all on production. Guy T. White of the W. J. Lawther Milling company stated that he believed the Experiment Stations would soon work out an all-mash ration for the convenience of poultrymen thus eliminating the scratch grain. Walter Burton, pioneer poultryman, A. P. A. judge and representative of the Universal Milling company, stated that he had nothing but praise for the Brazos county poultry tour and for the splendid progress evidenced on so many poultry farms. He stated that Brazos county has many natural advantages for poultry raising not found in North Texas. With the approach of the annual state-wide clean-up campaign which is set for the week of April

3-9, Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, urges the cooperation of the entire citizenry of the state in ridding Texas of dirt and disease producing germs. As a means of assisting towns and communities in checking up on health and sanitary conditions, he makes the following recommendations:

Cities. Municipalities should have sanitary disposal plants, with 100 per cent of homes having sewer connections. Towns not having sewage disposal plants should have a system of sanitary closets. Cities with common water supplies should monthly send samples of water to state laboratory for analysis, with a report of methods of operation. At present 100 cities are doing this, and it is hoped to see a big increase in this service. Towns in malarial districts should have a mosquito control budget. All towns should have the standard milk ordinance.

Rural Communities. In rural communities, special attention should be given to water supplies. Water from shallow wells is liable to contamination through drainage. Wells should be preferably three hundred yards from closets or barns and should be on elevated ground so that drainage will be away from the well. The top curbing should be made of concrete or other impervious material for a distance of several feet, and should be provided with a tight cover. Where a cistern is used for water supply, it should be stocked with minnows or ould regularly to prevent mosquito breeding. Farm premises should be kept clean of rubbish, and barnyards and chicken houses should be cleaned regularly.

Warren And Lightfoot Principal Speakers At Lions Club Meeting; 'Fire Prevention' Address Heard

I. E. Warren, chief of the Bryan fire department, was the principal speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the local Lions Club. Speaking on "Fire Prevention," he stated that all fires could have been avoided, and that 84 per cent of them were caused by defective flues, and 5 per cent by poor wiring. He showed how Bryan had had many fires in the past few years that should be expected, and that these fires were responsible for the increasing of the insurance rate. He said the Bryan fire department answered calls in only one-half minute's less time than paid city department, and that the firemen had responded 100 per cent.

Other Officials Present. Other city authorities present at the meeting were Mayor Tyler Haswell, Wilson Bradley, mayor pro tem, Hon. F. L. Henderson, and H. A. Burger. They were introduced and called upon for brief talks. The classification talk was made by E. A. Lightfoot, director of the Allen Academy band. He stated that there are 418 amateur bands in Texas, with total membership of 13,794. He recalled the many improvements that had been made in band instruments, and of the high character of the musicians of today. He said that Allen Academy band was equipped with silver clarinets that cost $1,800. He made a plea for tax-

Rye School Benefit Gets $15.70 for Lights

The Busy Bunch Club of the Rye school met Saturday night. The president Johnnie Zemanek, called the meeting to order. This being the first meeting no minutes were prepared. The secretary, Emma Severa, called the roll. Each member responded to roll call with a report of the chosen project. Club songs and yells were led by the yell leader Alfred Lero. County Agent C. L. Beason's pie eating contest was enjoyed by all. Lillie Lero won the prize a stick of candy. J. L. Mizelle a teacher from A. and M. College gave a very inspiring talk on the benefits derived from club work. Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt who is always willing to go after the money, auctioned the boxes. $15.70 was collected and will go for buying lights for the school house. This is the first year the boys and girls at Rye have been organized into a club. We need your cooperation. Can't you help us by coming to our meetings? On Tuesday Miss Abbie Sevier met with the club girls of Rye and explained the different projects they could select for their year's work and also the prizes that were being given by the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce. Officers elected were: Martha Bolmanakise, president, and Irene Higgs, reporter.

Barron In Race For Speakership Of 41st Legislature

AUSTIN, March 30.—Announcement has been made by Representative W. S. Barron of Bryan that he will be a candidate for the speakership of the lower house of the Forty-first legislature in 1929. Barron, who was one of the leaders in the house during the regular session of the Fortieth legislature is a strong supporter of the Moody administration. This announcement was made by Barron, who is a member of the house appropriation committee, just before leaving with the committee on a tour of inspection of educational institutions in West Texas. While there has been no announcement by other probable candidates for this office, Representatives Cecil Storey of Vernon, Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg and John Henry Kirby of Houston have been prominently mentioned for the speakership.

"This Is Your Park" Slogan Adopted By Haswell Park Board

At the regular meeting of the Sue Haswell Memorial Park board held this morning at the City Hall reports were made by different committees. A number of seats have been donated and same will be placed in the park within the coming week. These seats have been obtained through the efforts of Mrs. W. S. Howell, chairman of the park board.

J. H. Nash, local building contractor has contributed the necessary material for constructing several brick ovens. These ovens will be located at various places over the park convenient for use in connection with outing parties having luncheons and picnic parties. The drives through the park have been graded. The work was done under the supervision of County Commissioner John M. Moore, County Judge H. O. E. Brown, County Engineer J. E. Ramsey and Street Foreman J. Z. Ramsey. The necessary culverts and concrete drains will be constructed by the City at an early date.

Plans on the wading pool were reported as practically complete. The plans will be submitted to the committee from the Lions Club this week. Weather conditions permitting the City will begin the installation of the ornamental lighting units next week also the extension of a water line. Signs will be placed throughout the park at an early date asking users of the park to "Throw Trash in Cans," "Do Not Injure Trees," "This is Your Park, Use It and Care for It," also, "Keep the Park Clean."

Board adjourned to meet again next week at which time it is hoped to have a definite report on the locating of the Boy Scouts' home at Sue Haswell Memorial Park.

Reading Club Has Splendid Meeting

The Reading Club met Tuesday afternoon in regular session in the Library. During the business session the secretary read a letter from the district secretary telling of some of the attractions at the State Federation convention which will be held at Port Arthur in April. Mrs. Roy Stone will represent the club there. Mrs. O. O. Henderson had charge of the program in the absence of the leader. The subject for the afternoon was "Nature Study." Roll call was, "What I Like Best in Nature." Walter E. Bond, assistant state forester, gave a lecture on "Lumbermen and Conservation." Mr. Bond related some very interesting facts concerning the forests of the United States. He stated that Texas ranked seventh in lumber in the Union. Mr. Bond further stated that it took a tree about 40 years to grow in the South while it took twice that length of time to grow in the North. He told of the deplorable waste by forest fires, that in most cases could be prevented. Mrs. Roy Nunn read an interesting paper on "The Vanishing Wild Flowers."

Boys Enrolling For Summer Camp

F. C. Birdwell, chairman of the Brazos County M. T. C. Association's committee for enrollment of applicants for this summer's C. M. T. Camps, stated that the first application received at the Eighth Corps Area was that of Mr. Dixon Ludlow of Smithville, Okla., and from Brazos county C. L. Eden, Jr., of Bryan. These young men will be pleased with their experiences in camp this summer and, it is thought, may get chums to go with them. Mr. Birdwell desires to inform all interested that the qualifications for the basic (1st year) course are: Young men from 17 to 24 years, physically sound and of good moral character; generally assigned to camp nearest home, though other arrangements may be made at small personal expense. Students enrolling for other courses are assigned to camps for the completion of their courses. "Come meet the crowd," says Mr. Birdwell. "Come get a whole month of outdoor life, physical exercise, training, sports and recreation under expert supervision and at the expense of the Government. Let's go." He also stated that he has just received supplies of C. M. T. C. literature and has application blanks, etc., available at A. M. Waldrop and Co., which will be handy for those interested. You can rent those vacant rooms by means of an Eagle want ad.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weak-
ed, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs.
J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."
"I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."
"I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."
Thousands of others have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetite, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength.

Bryan Speaker Scores A Hit In East Texas

A. W. Buchanan, district agent of the Extension Service A. and M. College, recently made two remarkable addresses at Lovelady, Texas, at the First Baptist church and at the Lovelady Men's Business Club.

The Lovelady Star, in speaking of his address at the church said:
"Mr. Buchanan spoke on 'Service —Human Service and Christian Service.' He said we should cut out 'Self service.' The only service worth while is service to our brother men. Brother Buchanan made one of the best addresses it has been our good fortune to listen to in a long time."

In reference to his address at the Men's Club the paper said:
"He delivered a very interesting and most instructive address on diversified farming, and pointed out that there is neither sense, rhyme nor reason in the one crop system so popular with some of the farmers and land owners in this section. Mr. Buchanan showed clearly what can be done when a community makes up its mind to do it and works co-operatively."

Shenanigan Has Many Ups-Downs

"Who are the more important, men or women?" Manuel Smith, the colored elevator operator of the Astin building, who has held the job for nine years, was asked this morning by an Eagle representative.

"Men," he answered emphatically and without hesitation.

"Don't you think that the top of this building is as near heaven as you will ever reach?"

"No, sir; an elevator man is bound to go to heaven; he is kept scared for safety so much that he just prays all of the time. I've bound to go to heaven," he retorted.

COMMUNION SERVICE AS MEMORIAL

at the First Methodist church, Dr.
H. H. McCain preached on memorials, and following the sermon the handsome silver communion service was dedicated in memory members of the Methodist church in Bryan. Twelve members were admitted to the church: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Causby, Mr. and Mrs.

J. M. Conway, Miss Edith Conway,
Miss Della Parker, Miss Grace
Brown, James W. James Jr., Miss

Many Bryan Folk Use Public Library

Members of the board of directors of Carnegie Library met yesterday afternoon at the library. Miss Willie Rogers, librarian reported 154 new names added to the register since July 1st, the close of the fiscal year; 45 new books available for readers, three daily newspapers and magazines on the tables. This gives one an idea of how the Bryan people are taking advantage of the library and using it for pleasure and profit.

Plans were discussed as to needed repairs on the building. It was reported the building had leaks and certainly the interior needs new decoration. These repairs are to be taken up with the city commission.

Every person in Bryan should enter the Bryan Beautiful Contest whether they hope to win a prize or not. There are many who seem interested but from mere timidity do not enter. Some seem to think that the inspectors will go into the yards and usurp authority as though they possessed police power, but such is not the case. The judges, it is said, will go unannounced and make an inspection of all yards, a general survey and then grade by points as adopted by the Bryan Beautiful Contest committee. List your name today.

Original directors of the Bryan Building and Loan Association have been re-elected for another year. This association is of untold benefit to Bryan. It enables the average man to get a home, which is the dearest possession in American life. It starts him on the road to thrift and may enable him to avoid pinching poverty in the sunset of life. The entire city is indebted to the officers of this organization.

The Longview Chamber of Commerce has succeeded in bringing another cannery to that city. That is good news to every Texan whether we live in East, West, South or North Texas, for millions of dollars worth of tomatoes, fruits and vegetables go to waste every year, which is shameful. Perhaps Texas can't lead the world with canned goods, but it certainly can in producing these foods.

A big oil field seems to have been found at Jacksonville. It seems that oil exists in almost every part of Texas. Our mineral resources have just begun to be exploited. Talk of oil exhaustion may always be heard, but we doubt if it ever will be realized. Anyway, it is good propaganda for the oil companies.

Frequently in life a person is called upon to render a decision that tests his bigness, that shows whether he is a small or big person. Our own private interests must be submerged to the welfare of the entire community. Upon this basis law and liberty are founded.

Bryan will gladly welcome Colonel Ike Ashburn and other members of the Houston Chamber of Commerce here Thursday. The interests of the small and large cities are mutual and contact between them is bound to be mutually beneficial.

When we consider that there were 1200 persons present last night at the revival here, the absurdity of the statement that the church is losing ground is apparent. The church is stronger than ever, despite increased interest in various kinds of attractions.

The Bryan-College road is at last being repaired. The road needed repairing, but it will not satisfy us. It really is a waste of money as only a new paved road will remedy the situation and prove a wise investment.

There are three deaths per day in Texas as a result of automobile accidents. Most of our wars have been brought about with less provocation. Yet we speed with glee. "Inconsistency, thou art a jewel."

All forms of hazing seem to be going out of style. A man in New York has been fined $50 for spanking his 20-year-old daughter. Personal liberty howlers will have something else to talk about now.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

The merchant who thinks that cutting out his advertising will reduce the cost of doing business should remember that cutting the throats of his family will also reduce the cost of living.—Mineral Wells Index.

The best definition of optimists and pessimists appearing so far this year is the following: "An optimist is one who can see a great light where there isn't any, and a pessimist is one who comes along and blows it out."

CONGRATULATORY
The Mineral Wells Index got out a special crazy edition last Saturday celebrating the opening of the new Crazy Water Hotel. The paper was printed in three large sections, and was attractively illustrated and gave much valuable information about the past, present and future of Mineral Wells. We congratulate the Index on setting the pace for the rest of the town to keep up with. This hotel is one of the two modern hotels to be built in that city, the second is under construction. Friend Miller, we are hoping you will invite the Texas Press Association to come to Mineral Wells and try this Crazy Hotel out and then we will tell you if it is a good place to eat, sleep and drink.—Bryan Eagle.

Yessum, we've already asked the Texas Press Association to meet here in 1928 and if our memory is half as good as we think it is, you yourself, Dear Lady, promised us your cordial support when the matter came up at El Paso in June. Yes siree! We're after the next Press meeting as strong as horse radish and we're even now trying to promote a proposition to have the editorial train from Dallas and Fort Worth stop at Millsap long enough for us to bring every last one of them to Mineral Wells in private automobiles, see what we have, and eat lunch with us on the Roof Garden of the New Crazy Water Hotel. And we'll do that very thing if we can persuade Geo. Hunter, general passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific, and Sam Harben, General Ramrod of nearly everything, to agree to the plan.—Mineral Wells Index.

We are for you Friend Miller, yes siree! And you can count on us to do everything we can to get a free lunch with you.

A man more than 90 years old who is said to have traded half of the land upon which Denver is situated for a mule, is dead. This man wanted a mule to enable him to get out of town. He should go down in history as one of the world's poorest traders. A man who would make a trade like that is mule enough.—Bryan Eagle.

We should not be too hasty in passing judgment. At the time this aged gentleman pulled off the trade referred to he had just about as much reason to believe Denver would become the metropolis that it is today as Bryan the same year had that that city would be as large as Dallas is today. One just can't tell about the future.

Folks living right here in Texas once owned land on which the city of Dallas now stands and which they sold for virtually nothing, simply because there was no sign of a Dallas. But we do not have to go back that far for examples. Some of us right here in Denton (and probably in Bryan) who are not so old as some other folks have owned lots which were sold for a low price but which, if held, would have brought a big sum because of the growth of the town in that vicinity. On the other hand, some have owned lots for many years and have never been able to sell at a profit because the city grew in another direction. You can't tell about real estate. "You pay your money and takes your chance," as the fellow says.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

Millionaire Oil Man Dedicates Land To Diversification

(By Associated Press)

LULING, March 26.—An agricultural dream has come true here. Edgar B. Davis, millionaire oil man, has dedicated his 1200 acre farm here to the cause of diversified farming. It is known as the "Edgar B. Davis Foundation Farm." The direct beneficiaries are the farmers of Caldwell, Guadalupe and Gonzales counties.

The farm will be used for growing and distribution of pure seeds at market prices and to foster purebred bulls and boars. Proposals also have been made to establish local chicken hatcheries and among its many other activities it is recommended that an annual short course for farm families of the three counties be held at the farm.

CROWS INFECT BRAZOS FARMS

Brazos Valley is infected with hundreds of crows, and for some weeks they have been pulling the corn just as soon as it peeps out of the ground, causing hundreds of dollars worth of damage. A systematic crusade has been launched against these pests and each day many go out in the fields to shoot them. Friday the men from Bryan were: E. A. Lightfoot, J. H. Beard, and Fred L. Cavitt. The highest individual score was made by Fred Cavitt, registering 51 dead crows.

All who enjoy good shooting could find plenty of sport down on these farms and at the same time would be rendering a valuable service to the farmers.

A pie-eating contest which afforded much amusement followed. Margery Neeley, Lucille Stausland, and Wilson Syms, were very efficient but could not compare with David McMinn who won the large stick of candy given by Mr. Beason.

Among the visitors who were present and made short talks were Miss Sevier, Miss Banderlin, and Mrs. Walker.

Everyone is invited to meet with us on our regular meeting night which is the fourth Friday in each month.

LOCAL WELLS BEING DRILLED AT FAST CLIP

MUCH INTEREST IS BEING SHOWN IN BRAZOS
FIELD

The Harris oil well No. 2 and the Varisco Well No. 3 are being drilled rapidly, and an oil field is expected to spring up in Brazos county within the next week or two. These wells are being drilled at the rate of 100 feet per day, according to J. L. Edge. Several other wells are going to be drilled just across the river within the next 10 days. E. F. Gardner and W. W. Solomon, under the supervision of J. W. Hindman, are drilling these wells.

There is much interest being shown in this field by big oil companies, and within the past few days several thousand acres have been leased.

Millican

MILLICAN, March 30.—Miss Kathleen Meredith visited her sister Sylvia who is teaching at White Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Smith honored their niece Miss Thelma Seely with a birthday party Friday night. Thelma received several nice presents and I think some of our boys must be going on a journey as Thelma received several nice boxes of stationery.

Miss Nannie Mae Williams gave the junior boys and girls a party, honorees being Helen Ruth Dunlap and C. H. Davis who had also had a birthday.

The program rendered by College at Zone meeting at M. E. church was greatly enjoyed by all who heard them and pronounced it excellent. There were 57 members present to hear it.

Rev. Windsor of Waco filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday.

Rev. R. L. Brown of College accompanied by Mrs. Brown and two college students were with us at 3 o'clock Sunday. Rev. Brown is always welcomed at Millican and was here this time in the interest of the conquest campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Edwards are the proud grand parents of a granddaughter, baby of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCallum of Wheelock. Mrs. McCallum was formerly Miss Cora Mae Edwards and well known in Bryan.

Allen Farm was well represented at the church last night. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hempfling, Mr. Jones, Lee Norwood and Will McFerrin were seen in the audience.

Ye scribes accompanied Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Simpson to College and there joined the Poultry tour last Friday. If I had never owned a chicken would have been interested and profited thereby as the talks given, views exchanged, etc., were educational and certainly profitable to poultry raisers. Much to our regret we had to leave them at 1:00 o'clock as Mr. Simpson goes to work in Navasota at 4:00 o'clock.

J. L. McGregor and family of Houston visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGregor this week-end.

Mrs. Ella Taylor of Corsicana is visiting her sister Mrs. R. E. Dunlap.

Mrs. J. Walter Smith was called to the bedside of her mother Mrs. Williams of Rock Prairie who is ill. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Armstrong Will Visit Here

Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been in Dallas for some weeks visiting relatives will arrive in Bryan Friday afternoon, accompanied by her brother, George W. Hanway, for a visit to their uncles, John T. Hanway, and Mayor Tyler Haswell. Mrs. Armstrong is remembered by her many Bryan friends as Miss Jenny Hanway and this visit from her and her brother will be a source of much pleasure to them all. Mrs. Armstrong and Mr. Hanway will make the trip to Bryan in their car, and expect to return to Dallas Sunday.

M. K. Thornton, Jr., Presides As Toastmaster Of Elaborate Banquet Of The Baptist Church Of College

The Baptist church at College Station enjoyed one of its very best programs in the banquet hall of the College Mess Hall. Through the courtesy of W. A. Duncan, superintendent of subsistence, a banquet for the members of the Baptist church was possible. Prof. M. K. Thornton Jr., was toastmaster and proved himself to be a master on such occasions.

The following made short speeches: Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the College and deacon of the Baptist church, made a short and impressive talk. He praised and emphasized the work being done by the churches at A. and M. The pastor of the church, Rev. R. L. Brown gave a brief history of work at A. and M. he was followed by Mrs. Brown, who gave a report of the W. M. S. Dr. Dan Russell made a brief impromptu speech. Hon. W. S. Barron, representative from Brazos county and deacon in the College Avenue Baptist church, Bryan, made a short but most interesting and helpful talk. The main speaker of the evening was Rev. Roy S. Holomon, pastor of the College Avenue Baptist church, Bryan. His message was a contrast of two Bible characters, Solomon and Saul. One lived to gratify selfish ambitions, the other lived to serve his fellow man. His application to students at the present time was wonderful. R. J. Dunn, director of the College band and orchestra, furnished the music for the occasion. His orchestra, composed of eight students, was at its best.

The following took part on the musical program: The Aggie Band quartet, the Baptist quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sprague, Mrs. T. W. Leland and Mrs. J. E. Marsh.

The following students were presented by J. B. Bell, president of the Baptist Student Union and made reports of the work being done by the Baptist students at A. and M.: J. R. Sewell gave a report of Sunday School work; J. T. Evans reported work done in the Student B. Y. P. U.'s; G. F. Stark told about the special instruction in Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. work; B. D. Muzzy reported the amount of extension work being done by the Baptist students; R. B. Davis gave an interesting account of the personal service program which includes magazines carried to the hospital, visits to the sick and daily dormitory prayer meetings—he stated that there were an average of 30 attending the prayer meetings every night in the dormitories.

It was our good fortune to have a large number of girls from Baylor University present at the banquet. Miss Lois Smith spoke for the Baylor girls and brought us greetings from the University.

The following were present: Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. T. O. Walton, Prof. and Mrs. M. K. Thornton Jr., Rev. and Mrs. Roy S. Holomon, Hon. and Mrs. W. S. Barron, Prof. and Mrs. T. W. Leland, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Marsh, Prof. and Mrs. Ray Flagg, ter, D. B. Harbin, C. A. Peyton, J. W. Mathews, B. Hasty, H. K. Brown, R. L. Lawrence, J. B. Michael, L. T. Murphy, H. J. Roberson, E. L. Boehm, C. L. Mowery, S. B. Davis, J. E. Gragg, J. J. Hanna, J. A. Greer, J. L. Nowell, W. A. Greer, G. F. Stark, A. B. Kennedy, H. Howard, T. D. White, A. Crocker, W. R. Stark, W. C. Virtrus, J. E. Wilder, C. Butler, R. C. Griffing, M. C. Hollingsworth.

Plans Formulated For Chautauqua to Be Here April 21-28

Charley Wildman of the Ellison-White Chautauqua was in Bryan yesterday and conferred with Hon. Oak McKenzie and others relative to the program that will be given April 21 to 28.

This year's program is going to be especially strong, according to Mr. Wildman, and much interest is being shown in this educational and entertaining attraction. The program is particularly well-balanced, with no weak numbers.

Your Money's Worth — Always

Not now and then, but always do Ford car buyers get their money's worth.

Remember that Ford has been building cars for more than 20 years. In that time over 14,000,000 Fords have gone into owners' hands. And every one has been a good car. There is no other record to equal this.

Steady improvement in appearance and better manufacture have made today's Ford more than ever the world's best "money's worth" in automobiles—a good car, to be counted on every day.

McCormick-Deering Ball- Bearing Primrose SEPARATORS

When selecting a cream separator be sure the machine you buy will recover the greatest amount of butter-fat. This the McCormick-Deering will do twice each day for a long period of years. The compact, sanitary and practical design of the McCormick-Deering combined with qualities such as easy turning, positive and automatic lubrication, must be considered when you desire a serviceable, long-life machine.

The McCormick-Deering is pleasing in appearance. It is of practical height and can be conveniently placed in the kitchen, milkhouse or barn, as it requires very little space for its operation. Regardless of the size of your herd, there is a McCormick-Deering to meet your individual needs.

"The World's Easiest Running Cream Separator"

Separators sold on the installment plan. Inquire for particulars about terms.

It is a demonstrated fact that ball bearings designed and specially built for the McCormick-Deering will outlast plain bearings many times over and in most cases outlast the machine itself.

Experienced men who own ball-bearing McCormick-Deering cream separators have voiced their enthusiastic approval of this time and labor-saving development. Ask an owner—or several of them. Their statements will prove our claim that the McCormick-Deering is "the easiest-running cream separator in the world"—and the reason—ball bearings.

Per Acre Counts

In Press letter sent out March 22, E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Extension Service, says in speaking of our present cotton situation: "The yield per acre and not the total yield per farm, determines whether the crop has been made at a profit or a loss." "The outlook for acreage reduction is," he says, "not very encouraging. Another big crop in 1927 will increase the surplus still more and no doubt cause further depression in the price with a loss to all growers, except those who can make good yields per acre." The Cotton Council of the Southern Agricultural Workers' Association warns us that "a normal yield per acre in 1927 will surely increase the surplus and further depress the present low price," adding, "this will result in a loss to growers throughout a very large production of the cotton producing acreage. This will most certainly be true on all lands where the yield is less than three-fourths of a bale per acre. The council reaffirms most earnestly its recommendations of last year that every effort be made to produce better cotton on fewer acres and more food and feed on more acres." Here are two statements one coming from our A. and M. College, and the other from business interests, both predicting disaster in the event of another big cotton crop. Will the warning serve us to advantage?

Poor Harrow

J. H. White Jr., of the Wixon community, states that he used a section harrow to good advantage in running over his recently planted corn, but which had been drenched by a packing rain. Many farmers find the section harrow fine for both corn and cotton when just up or coming up.

Praises Club Work

Professor Rudd of the Kurten school states that he is glad of the opportunity to work in a country where club work is being done and where other such helps are available. Club work has for its object not only the improvement of the individual, but also the improvement of the school and the betterment of the community in all things worth while.

Battle Diseases

All club members having poultry for their projects should use every precaution possible to prevent disease among their baby chicks. In the raising of baby chicks we are told that prevention is the watchword and not cure, as many seem to think. Provide clean quarters for baby chicks, and don't overfeed when chicks are young. Look out for rats, hawks, cats, hogs, dashing rains, and bad feed. Prepare now to have home raised feed during the summer when feed is scarce.

Has Good Luck

Charles Wehrman, president of the Smetana Club, reports only a 60 per cent hatch from his three settings of Barred Rock eggs. Here's hoping, Charles, you can raise a 100 per cent of your hatch.

Whence the Idea?

Ima McCulloch, club member of the Wellborn club, stated on last Friday night at the club meeting, in which there was a contest for best report, she winning first place, that her hens would not set, so she was advised to throw an old slipper on top of the poultry house and this would cause the hens to become broody. Ima said she tried it out and that two hens became broody the very next day. Is this a scientific discovery, or is it a remnant of our superstitions? Whence the idea?

Eggs Valuable

In speaking of eggs as human food, Miss Abbie Sevier, Home Demonstration Agent, stated during the poultry tour that eggs rank high as human food, perhaps being surpassed by milk only.

CALLES--

scorned and rejected the great guarantees of human rights in that document, though he declared that, when Mexico was recognized by President Wilson in October, 1915, it gave the guarantee in writing that these great and sacred rights of humanity would be protected and preserved to all men in Mexico.

Praises Constitution

Mr. Collins told the story of the U. S. Constitution and said that like the Holy Book it ought to be the firebrand companion of every American family. He quoted each of the great guarantees in the Bill of Rights—the first ten amendments to the constitution—to show what these sacred and God-given rights of men meant to show how all of them were prohibited and denied specifically under the Mexican Constitution of Carranza, Obregon and Calles. In summing up, Mr. Collins quoted from an address of President Coolidge where he said: "I do not propose to barter away for the privilege of trade any of the sacred rights of humanity, I do not propose to make merchandise of any American principles. Wherever the sanctions of our government go, these rights and principles must go." Mr. Collins declared that our sanctions have gone into Mexico, that our recognition is there, but that "these sacred rights and principles" of humanity are not there and that, until they are, the American people should demand of their government the cutting off of recognition to Red Mexico and its Bolshevik government.

Talks of Labor

Mr. Collins then went into a discussion of the Mexican Federation of Labor (the CROM) and its alliance with the American Federation of Labor. He called on the organized labor increment of the United States to repudiate this alliance with the Red Mexican Federation of Labor, which he declared is merely the tool of Calles and Bolshevism in spreading Red Radicalism on the American continent. He declared that it held the greatest danger for the future of American labor. He told of the deception practiced in getting the alliance of American labor with Red Mexican labor. He quoted from the address of the official representative of Red Mexican labor—Roberto Haberman at A. F. of L. Conventions 1924-5—to show that Mexican labor movement was "completely subjected to government of Mexico" and also to show that Mexican Federation of Labor stood for Bolshevism, for Red Communism, the class struggle and confiscation of property, doctrines of Bolshevism.

Mr. Collins quoted from an agreement made between Calles and the Mexican Federation of Labor in which Calles guaranteed that the Mexican government would pay all of the expenses of the Mexican Federation of Labor, and would make Luis Morones, the leader of Mexican labor, a member of his cabinet. For this, Mr. Calles asserted the Mexican Federation of Labor was to create from its membership a Red Army similar to the Bolshevik Red Army of Russia. This Red Army was to be officered by labor men, was to displace gradually the regular army of Mexico, and was to be used at Calles' call and being.

Warns A. F. of L.

Mr. Collins affirmed that the conditions in Nicaragua, where President Diaz had to protest to the American government against the efforts of Calles and the Red Mexican Federation of Labor. Mr. Collins declared that one of the surest ways to have Mexico establish a just and legal government by the people of Mexico was for the American Federation of Labor to cut off immediately all alliance and affiliation with the Bolshevik Mexican Federation of Labor. He said that, in continuing this alliance with Mexican labor, the A. F. of L. was in danger of internal conflict and disintegration and loss of the sympathy of the American people.

In closing his lecture, Mr. Collins made a stirring appeal to all men, Protestant, Catholic, Jew and Gentile, to work in cooperation for the glory of America and the protection of our country against all enemies.

The lecture was part of the Knights of Columbus campaign against the spread of Bolshevism on the American continent.

Tabor

TABOR, March 31.—Well, we're here again. We're having a few days of spring weather but it looks as if we would have some more rain soon.

We are having a good deal of sickness in our community. Mrs. Lindsey and the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koozts are both sick but we wish for them a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thompson spent Sunday in our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thurman and Mr. Tom Closs' family of Edge spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Closs.

We had church services at Alexander Sunday and had a good sermon and a big crowd. We also had the Union and League at the respective churches Sunday night. We hope to have larger crowds from Sunday to Sunday as the weather is changing and spring is here.

Miss Birdie Risinger of Steep Hollow and Messrs. Risinger and Meyers, students at A. and M. spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Closs, Jr.

Mrs. Herbert Smith who is teaching at King's Highway, spent the week-end at her home here.

We had an informal banquet for the boys and girls basket ball teams at the high school auditorium Saturday night. The table was very beautifully decorated with the colors and an immense profusion of flowers. Plates were set for about fifty. We had a short program and a delicious supper which was enjoyed by all.

Miss Bertha Walker, who is teaching at Prospect, spent the week-end with home folks here.

Freddie Locke, who is working in the Brazos Valley spent the week-end with his home folks.

People's Column--

we have been granted there is no room for argument. But enough on that.

As to the McNary-Haugen bill and Mr. Coolidge's attitude toward it, I am quite ready to agree with those who rejoice over its veto.

And now in passing over some of his arguments in regard to the decrease in land values and overtaxation I heartily agree with him on these things as they are all facts that are only too well known to be true, and now coming to his last argument, I must take issue with him and from his attitude I am persuaded he must have been reared in Brazos county. I have been a farmer all of my life and have farmed in five different states, have been in the cotton belt 29 years, in Brazos county 3 years and in all my experience have never found a soil more nearly adapted to all purposes than I find here. There is no soil that will more readily respond to fertilization and produce a greater variety of products. And just here let me say I have never seen these vital necessities more grossly neglected in any country than here. Many farmers (though not all) seem to be willing just to stay in the old rut and adhere to the old methods of farming, grumble at the consequences and pray to our legislature and congress to make loans that will alleviate their condition while the remedy in a great measure is at our own finger tips. Here we have a soil that will with proper management, produce almost (if not quite) with California any vegetable or fruit and that too, in great abundance.

Now as to cotton. Cotton is the South's great money crop, has been from the beginning and always will be, and here comes the amusing part of our friend's argument: He hails with joy the fact that he no longer is compelled to tie both ends of the cow to milk her, and we can raise what we eat at home and discard the tin can diet, eliminate the high cost of living with the cow, sow and hen. To all of which let us all say, "Amen," but (Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel) if he is going to raise cotton he must go to West Texas and compete with the two row machinery. May I ask you in the name of reason why? While the two row machinery would not be a success here we have here advantages that they never will have. We can build up and maintain our soil fertility to the end of time, while they have already reached their zenith in cotton production. We have the early season, the abundant rainfall and early gathering season, which gives us better marketing conditions and better quality. Let me ask my friend a question and then answer it for him. Why the high cost of living and the tin can diet? Here is my answer. Inadequate soil culture and inferior cotton and the one goes hand in hand with the other. Well, can we get away from these conditions? I say yes. For we have unlimited facilities at our command. Let us plant more berries, peaches, plums, grapes, and figs. Enough for our own use and some to sell. Then let us get away from the idea of more cotton, whether it be on more acres or on fewer acres. Let our watchword be better cotton and never stop short of the very best, which will always assure us the very best price. Give us the very best corn, hogs, poultry and fruit from these environments will come better living conditions and of course better people and then Brazos county will be an ideal place to live and we will have no desire to go to West Texas and milk 14 white-face cows for a quart of milk and gather low grade cotton with a sled, even if we might plant or cultivate two rows at a time.

Bryan Man Sues For Large Sum

(Houston Chronicle)

Suit for $75,000 damages for alleged permanent injuries in line of duty were filed in district court Thursday by Ross Saladiner against Daniel Ripley & Co., Inc., and others.

Saladiner sets forth in his petition that on September 27, while helping to unload a cargo of cotton seed cake from the steamship Youngstown a sack of cottonseed fell 30 feet striking him on the shoulder and ribs and permanently disabling him.

Ross Saladiner is the son of J. M. Saladiner of Bryan and was born and reared here.

Highway Inspector For District No. 17 Pays Brazos Visit

J. O. Bratton of Austin with the State Highway Department as licenses and weights inspector for district No. 17, which includes Brazos, Burleson, Robertson, Lee, Washington, Leon, Falls and Milam counties is in Bryan today on an official visit. "All persons not having automobile licenses for 1927 will be prosecuted," he said. Mr. Bratton has not visited all of the counties in the district as yet, but he estimates that more than 200 automobiles have been found without licenses in those counties where he has been. Mr. Bratton was visiting Bryan for the first time and was much pleased with Bryan and its progressiveness. When Bryan is made headquarters for district No. 17, Mr. Bratton contemplates moving his family here after the school term closes in Austin. Mr. Bratton is one of the six inspectors appointed by the Highway Commission, out of the forty inspectors to be appointed by the commission.
